Why go elsewhere when you can install America's favorite shingle in a great selection of highly reflective shingle colors to meet your cool roofing needs!

California Code Compliance

With Timberline HD® Reflector Series™ Shingles, you get proven performance and reliability as well as beauty — plus potential cooling cost savings!<sup>1</sup>

They also:

- Can be used to comply with Title 24 cool roof requirements
- Are rated by the Cool Roof Rating Council
- Meet the cool roof requirements of the Los Angeles Green Building Code

<sup>1</sup> Potential for savings depends on various factors including, but not limited to, radiative properties of shingles installed, climate zone, utility rates, location, and HVAC equipment efficiency. For the radiative properties of each shingle listed, visit the CRRC's Rated Products Directory at coolroofs.org/products.

The Darkest "Cool" Shingle You Can Buy!

Before now, if you wanted a highly reflective dark-colored roof that met the cool roof requirements of Title 24, you would have had to settle for colors that were much less vibrant than those available for traditional shingles.

But now, innovative granule technology has changed everything! New EcoDark™ granules produce vibrant color never before seen in a cool roof.

You can finally have the rich, vibrant colors you've always wanted in a highly reflective shingle, including Charcoal, the darkest cool color available.

Better for the environment . . . better for you!

A cool roof from GAF helps minimize solar heat gain by reflecting incoming sun rays and re-emitting the absorbed energy — thereby reducing the heat going into the house and in the attic. This may translate into savings on air-conditioning bills.<sup>1</sup>
